Gloom Chasers Show Magic and Memory Ability in Assembly

Students viewed feats of magic by "The Gloom Chasers," Duke and Myrnelia Montague, in a student assembly Thursday, March 3. The Montagues are sponsored by National School Assemblies.

Students assisting the "Wizard of Ahs" were Jim Wall, freshman, who helped with a rope trick and had water poured out of his elbow, and Jane Null, sophomore, and Dale Long, junior, who participated in an arm cutting demonstration.

Mrs. Montague, "the Memory Lady," displayed her talent by repeating 20 household items from memory.

NEXT LAMRON MARCH 28

The next issue of the LAMRON is scheduled for March 28, a week after the start of spring quarter. No Lamron will be published on Monday, March 14, as is the regular policy each term because of final exams, and on Monday, March 21, because of spring vacation.

Legislature Passes Bill Including New Men's Dorm at OCE

by June Ethell

OCE's proposed men's dorm was included in a bill passed by the State House of Representatives, February 28, and by the Senate, March 2.

The $225,000 men's dormitory will be a 100-man, three-story building facing Monmouth avenue just south of Prime's Service Station.

The bill increases the board of education's bonding limit from eight million dollars to $13,884,000 to provide for nine building projects on six college campuses. One of the buildings included in the plan will be a $550,000 student union building for Portland State college.

Most of the buildings would be dormitories and Representative Orvan Eaton, Astoria, said the building investments would return a 150% profit.

The House also passed a bill removing the present prohibition against membership on the state board of higher education by residents of Eugene, Corvallis, Monmouth, LaGrande, and Ashland. It also changes the board membership limit from five alumni to five graduates of the state's institutions of higher learning.

A bill originating in the senate will be introduced there soon concerning the health and physical education courses in public schools. Health and physical education courses are now required in public schools and, if this bill passes they would no longer be required.

Dr. Mather Tells of Prospects for Human Welfare in Assembly

Three resources of human welfare were stressed by Dr. Kirtley Mather, professor emeritus of geology at Harvard university, in an assembly Monday, February 28.

Intellectual, physical and spiritual resources were those named by Dr. Mather who predicted potential world prosperity in all but the latter realm. World interdependence was emphasized.

For a more prosperous outlook from a spiritual basis, the United States would need to become a truly Christian nation patterned after the principles contained in the Sermon on the Mount, according to a concluding statement of Dr. Mather.

Dr. Mather, who spoke at several meetings on the campus, was here in connection with the national Teacher Education and Religion project. OCE is one of 15 teacher colleges in the U.S. selected and backed by the Danforth Foundation, for exploration of curricular modifications designed to provide prospective teachers with better orientation in the area of developing moral and spiritual values.

Dr. Horn, an author of textbooks and a man of national reputation in the field of elementary education, will address the general assembly in the morning and will meet with sectional groups in the afternoon.

The conference is an annual event which usually attracts some one thousand teachers.

Teacher's Honorary Admits New Members At Alumni Banquet

Seven students were initiated into the teachers' honorary, Phi Beta Sigma, Delta chapter, on February 26. Those initiated are Richard Haury, Jim Hall, Clyde Head, Harry Pease, Phyllis Seid, Merle Soultz and Jeannette Spinney.

Members of Phi Beta Sigma had the opportunity to meet alumni members at a coffee hour entertainment during the afternoon at Miss Emma Henkle's residence.

After initiation ceremonies the annual alumni banquet was served at the Monmouth Elementary cafeteria with Don McKenzie, president, presiding as toastmaster. The new members provided the evening's entertainment with a skit, "William Tell." During the evening short speeches were made by Miss Henkle and Mort Howard, advisers to the group.

EDITORIAL

In Accordance with Policy

Members of the Lamron staff met with the AS-OCE executive council recently to discuss matters of policy. While both groups agreed that the staff and editor have final responsibility of policy interpretation and both indicated their objective of working for the best interests of OCE, they differed on how to serve those interests.

One statement mentioned by executive members was their aim to "keep the students happy" and they indicated that, if the Lamron were working for the best interests of the college, this should be a Lamron objective also.

"Not necessarily so," was our answer, for as our policy is to "publish information in proportion to reader interest and concern," the information may not make students "happy." The contrary is possible, but suppression of news would not seem ethical, by our standards, on that basis only; or on the basis of the possibility of "getting the students up in arms," a limitation voiced by President Dale Harp.

To illustrate the type of story objected to by the council, as a case in point only, we cite an article concerning the return of an OTI basketball in the February 14 Lamron. The view of the staff was that the students should be informed, other than by rumor, since the case involved a reflection on the student body. The staff maintains that articles of this type need to be published and plans to continue similar news coverage.

As a result of the meeting, the executive council was formally "invited to express its opinion regarding the printing of certain similar articles in the future, should they arise." This is no special privilege for the council — every reader is invited to do the same in person or by letter.

This editorial is printed in accordance with Lamron policy, as stated, with endorsement of the editorial board.

Complaints Bring Poll

Complaints to student council concerning the records played at the sport dances have resulted in a survey to be taken soon by placing questionnaires in S.P.O. boxes. The questionnaires will ask for a list of the students' favorite songs, and these lists will be compiled to find the choices of the student body as a whole. Harry Pease, ASOCE financial secretary, will be in charge of this survey.

CO-WEDS TO MEET

The bi-monthly meeting of the Co-Weds club for students' wives will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Summerfield, 249 Gwin street, on Wednesday, March 9. Fundamentals of bridge will be taught and other entertainment and refreshments will be provided by Donna Summerfield, hostess.

STUDENT WRITES COLUMN

A column about OCE campus life appears every week in the Northwest Sundial, a paper published in Portland. The column, "Campus Coffee Clatch," is written by Dee Ann Larimer, OCE junior, whose home is in Portland. The paper is included on the periodical shelf in the OCE library.

LETTER FROM READER

Opposes Blackface

TO THE EDITOR:

Our attention has been called to a letter by Russell W. Saunders, Jr., and a comment by Harry E. Pease in your issue of February 14 relative to "blackface minstrels."

Mr. Saunders certainly states the NAACP position that such presentations are harmful in that they tend to perpetuate the stereotype of the Negro as a knave and clown. Because of this distorted picture our organization has consistently opposed such performances.

I am enclosing copies of a leaflet, "Blackface Minstrels," which cites reasons why minstrel shows are considered offensive.

Sincerely,

Henry Lee Moon, Director
Public Relations, National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

(Ed. Note: The leaflets mentioned are posted on the main CH bulletin board and in the Lamron office.)

THE ENGAGEMENT OF ELIZABETH Krautscheid to Ron Rainsbury was announced March 1. "Liz" is a sophomore from Hillsboro. Ron attended OCE the last two years, serving as first vice-president of the student body last year.

AT PRESENT HE IS STATIONED as an Air Force cadet at Spence field in Georgia. His home is in Garibaldi. No date has been set for the wedding.

BILL HABERLY WAS REPRI-MANDED by our house mother the other night for having his motorcycle upstairs in his room again. Seems she caught him bumping it down the front hall steps.

YOU CAN IMAGINE THE look on her face when she asked him what the noise was and he said he was just bringing his motorcycle downstairs. She told him never to take it up there again.

THIS IS THE LAST PAPER this term. We were hoping to print a statistical rundown of the status of everyone at OCE. It would be interesting to show on a chart the number of going steadies, engaged, and pinned, as well as married couples here.

HOWEVER IT WASN'T DONE particularly because people change their status so often and because we just didn't get it done. Would have been interesting to see how many people are

The Northwest conference took it on the chin but good in the district two NAIA tourney last week. For the past four years the highly talented loop of north-west schools has dominated play with the infant Oregon Collegiate conference. The degree of domination has lessened until this year. Portland State's Vikings tripped Pacific 71-57 for the District two NAIA title and a trip to Kansas City for the national tournament.

Willamette, the other NWC school in the tourney, dropped a close verdict to PSC and were edged 89-85, by Eastern Oregon. The Mountaineers were clipped by Pacific in the first round. All in all, it leaves the boys of the OCC with a 3-1 mark in the 1955 NAIA tournament play.

Pacific wasn't the only favorite to drop one in NAIA district play. College of Idaho, the NWC hoop winners with a 15-0 record, lost a squeaker to Montana State 78-76, in the district five finals. Gonzaga, ranked ninth team in the northwest by the OC student poll, lost a best two out of three series with Whitworth for the district one title.

Last chance to pick an OCC basketball all-star team, so here goes: Two smoothies right off would be Ken Westenskow and Larry Pryse from Eastern Oregon and not just because they recently attempted to ruin a fine Folks' Festival. Keith Johnson and Lloyd Hoffine would join the first duo as representatives from Southern. Jack Viskov of loop champion Portland State would make a last but not least fifth member of the select team. A second team? Paul Poetsch, PSC; Ted Schadewitz, EOC; John James, OTI; John Reinking, EOC; and Larry Chamberlain, OC.

Faculty Edges Varsity 'O' 30-28

Dr. "Markus" Haines paced a resolute staff of Oregon College faculty to a 30-28 overtime win over Varsity "O" last Friday. All feet that many inches, Haines dropped through two gift tosses in the overtime to net the victory.

Superman, alias John O'Donnell, paced the forces of good in a second half drive to tie the score. Charlie Harris sent the game into overtime with a 40-yard dash that set up the basket. Bill (Jim Hall) Brown, 11 foot 2 and 3/19587 inch postman helped out the Varsity "O" cause with a pair of baskets.

Not content with their superiority in basketball, the faculty has issued a challenge to Varsity "O" to a volleyball game sometime next term. The contest will be played under regular rules with no admission charge.

Eastern Oregon College clamped a dim note upon a dismal season the week-end of February 25 and 26 with dual triumphs over the host Oregon College Wolves. Scores of the contests were 95-86 and 86-81.

Larry Pryse put the Mountaineer double-shot whammy on the Wolfpack in the opener with a 30-point production. Not that his mates were loafing as John Reinking contributed 24 and three other lads hit in the double figures.

All was not on the EOC side in scoring, however, as a nearly ironman stint by the Wolves came close to netting victory. After trailing at halftime 37-48 and maintaining the same deficit through most of the second half, the OC boys pulled up to an 86-90 count with time running out. It did too and 24 points by Ron Jones, 20 by Larry Chamberlain and 19 by Wayne Young went for naught save satisfaction in a job well done.

Saturday was about the same story again only new faces played the leads. Ted Schadewitz topped all scorers with 22, followed closely by Ken Westenskow with 21. Pryse had 17.

Halftime count was similar at 43-33 only the Wolves pulled up close with about four and a half minutes left. It was squeezed to 73-75 and later to 75-78, but no one could boost the clawing Wolves over the top.

Darrel Davis, playing his last basketball game in Red and Gray attire, gave the top performance of his four-year stay here. The "Mouse" topped Wolfpack scoring with 18. Ron Jones and Von Summers picked up 16 each.

The Wolves thence wind up the 1954-55 season with a 3-21 mark, a second year in the OCC cellar (2-14), a great deal of playing experience and abundant hope for the coming year with everyone but Davis back for another try.

Jones was high point producer for the year with 374 points in 24 battles for a 15.6 average per game. Larry Chamberlain finished with 330, Wayne Young with

Jensen, New Lead in Play To Be Next Term

Keith Jensen, junior from Woodburn, has replaced Robert Lemond as Milo Alcot, the principal character of the ASOCE play, "Lo and Behold." The role change was because of illness.

The play, which was to be presented March 1 and 2, has been postponed until early in the spring quarter. It was considered by the director, Mr. George Harding, and the play cast that, due to the recent death of Dr. Maaske, it would not be appropriate to present the play this term.

Council To Appoint

Junior class commissioner will be appointed at the next ASOCE student council meeting on Monday, March 7, to serve spring term when the resignation of Betty Beigh goes into effect. She is resigning because of illness.

Duties of the position on the student council include representing the junior class and performing duties as designated by the council.

Leadership Class Told

Dr. Ernest W. Warrington from OSC will hold leadership classes on the OCE campus from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. on Saturdays April 2, 16 and 30. A fourth meeting may be arranged sometime in the future. Any student wishing to attend these classes who has not already signed up, is requested to contact Dale Harp, ASOCE president.

Students' Folks Enjoy Week-End

Approximately 200 mothers and fathers attended the annual Folks' Festival held on the OCE campus on Friday and Saturday, February 25 and 26.

Last year's Mothers' club officers were re-elected to serve another year. They are: Mrs. Robert Jones, Salem, president; Mrs. Victor Carlo, Portland, vice-president; Mrs. Chester Long, Dundee, secretary; and Mrs. O H Lunda, Salem, treasurer.

Dads' club officers elected to serve for the coming year were: Loren Gower, Aumsville, president; G Krautscheid, Hillsboro, vice-president; and Tim West, Portland, secretary-treasurer for the second year. Two delegates at large were chosen to serve as aides to the new slate of officers. They are Nolan Yoder, Hubbard, and James Booth, Salem, past-president.

Supervisor To Be At Aviation Meet

Mrs. Gertrude Patterson, Monmouth elementary school supervisor, attended the fifth annual conference of the National Aviation Education Council in St. Louis, Missouri, February 24 and 25.

Mrs. Patterson, who will act as a consultant for the NAEC on aviation education in the primary grade groups, is coordinator for women with the Civil Air Patrol in Salem. She was flown to St. Louis by special arrangement with the Air Force.

Last year, Mrs. Patterson won the 50th Anniversary of Powered Flight contest, Oregon grade teachers' division, and was flown to Washington, D.C., for the Wright Brothers' Memorial dinner.

Mrs. Patterson plans to remain in St. Louis to attend the American Association of School Administrators meeting, to be held there the following week.

NOXON TO SPEAK AT IRC

The International Relations club will meet again Monday in Ad. 208 at 7:30 p.m., with Mr. Charles Noxon relating to the club the highlights of last year's educational tour of the Mediterranean area. Mr. Noxon will also tell of the trip to South America which he will conduct this summer.

No IRC meeting will be held on Monday evening, March 14.

Student Welfare Committee Makes Registration Recommendations

Recommendation concerning registration and the book store situation plus several physical facility improvements have come as a result of recent Student Welfare Committee meetings.

Registration during pre-scheduling week would be extended to include turning in class cards and having the schedule card initialed, if the recommendations of the committee had not been turned down by the faculty. The committee also suggested that scheduling could be done by student volunteers in order to save faculty time.

Lack of available staff and physical facilities to adequately handle the book store situation was the conclusion of the group as to the source of difficulty in the store. No immediate solution was apparent as additions to the college staff would not be likely until next year.

Answers Book Store Complaints

Complaints concerning hours the store is open were answered upon learning that students may receive service from the President's office when the book store is closed.

New bindings have been installed on CH stairs and campus crosswalks and curbs will be repainted. Both are safety measures advocated by the committee after investigation of the sit-

The student welfare committee, under the direction of Dr. Art Glogau as chairman, is made up of faculty members chosen by the president of Oregon College of Education and students named by the ASOCE student council to represent a cross-section of the campus.

Their purpose is to investigate problem situations on the campus and to recommend action for the welfare of students as a whole.

Two Student Members There

Present at the meeting on February 10 were Marlene Alsbaugh and Elmer Summerfield, students, and Dr. Art Glogau, Miss Edith Olson, Mrs. Ruth Johnson, Dr. Roy Lieuallen, Mrs. Clara Thompson, Miss Ruth Lautenbach, and Dr. Floyd Albin, faculty.

Also in attendance for a special meeting to discuss the registration, February 16, were Dr. David Brody, from the faculty, and Joe Roberts, Don McKenzie and Chuck Keaton, students. All those mentioned are members of the committee.
